

Bachelor of Arts - First Year - Sociology

Course Title	Fundamentals of Sociology
Course Code	SOC 1101	Notional hours	150
No. of Credits	3	Lectures, Discussion classes
Pre-requisites Course Codes	None
Course Type	Core

Course Description

This is a compulsory course offered by the department of Sociology for first year students to provide them with a basic sociological knowledge. The course provides students a basic understanding of the importance of sociology as a distinct social science discipline, basic concepts, main theories, key methodological issues as well as important sociological themes such as social structure, social institutions, social organization and social control. This course lays the foundation necessary for students to study sociology further in the following years.

To reach at a basic level of understanding of:

- i Sociology as a distinct discipline,
- ii Its key concepts,
- iii Theoretical and methodological approaches to studying society,
- iv Social structure, organization and social control.